

Herman Sahni

From: Herman Sahni <sahni.herman@gmail.com>
Sent: Thursday, October 26, 2017 8:18 PM
To: Herman Sahni
Subject: Fwd: Welcome to WGSRN! SSRN's Women's & Gender Studies Research Network!

--
Sincerely,
Herman

----- Forwarded message -----

From: SSRN <support@ssrn.com>
Date: Thu, Oct 26, 2017 at 11:16 AM
Subject: Welcome to WGSRN! SSRN's Women's & Gender Studies Research Network!
To: sahni.herman@gmail.com

View this email in your browser

Women's & Gender Studies

an SSRN Research Network

SSRN is pleased to announce WGSRN, our new Women's & Gender Studies Research Network, where researchers in women's and gender studies and related interdisciplinary areas can share ideas and other early-stage research. Users can post preprints and working papers and can quickly upload and read free WGSRN papers, spanning subject areas including gender in the global research landscape, feminist methodology, theory, and philosophy, women and law, politics and justice, and several other growing topics.

One of your papers, Boys and Girls Have Different Friends: Gender Differences in CEO Network and Wage Premiums, has been selected for inclusion in the WGSRN launch as part of the Women & Work eJournal, WGSRN: Gender Disparity (Topic), WGSRN: Gender Gaps in Employment & Income (Sub-Topic). Connections among researchers across disciplines provide different perspectives on similar problems and allow for collaborations.

Congratulations on being selected. We hope you will share additional papers through SSRN!

Join our SSRN team on November 2 at 11a.m. to 11:30a.m. EDT for an informative webcast on the interdisciplinary nature of Women's & Gender Studies and how sharing early research makes a difference can change the world.

Share your Ideas. Change the World.

Copyright © 2017 SSRN, All rights reserved.

You are receiving this message because you are a current SSRN author in the Women's & Gender Studies field.

Our mailing address is:

SSRN

1239 University Ave, Floor 2

Rochester, NY 14607

Add us to your address book

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.